

Water Lack, Not Pumps Is Cause of Shortage

Inability of the Riverview Farms Mutual Water Company to give its stockholders all the water they can use these days is not due to lack of pumps, but to a shortage of water at its source, George Langworthy, secretary of the company stated this week, replying to a number of questions regarding water distribution made by L. F. Ellis, Winter Gardens, a stockholder in the company.

"Our wells are producing only 60% of their normal flow," Mr. Langworthy stated. "This is a situation that confronts nearly every water district in Southern California. We are doing everything in our power to keep our water users supplied and they are more fortunate than some districts that are running out of water."

Questions asked by Mr. Ellis in a letter to the Star, were:

"What we over here on the South side of the hill would like to know is, why the distribution of water is not equally dispensed to all stockholders? Why is the water not pumped into the large reservoir and distributed from there to the South side as well as the North side and when the tank is dry, let me be out of water at the same time?"

POSES QUESTIONS

Continuing, Mr. Ellis wrote: "I have been told that there is only one 4-inch line to supply all the South side. I am also told that the pumping capacity is not sufficient to keep water in the large reservoir. Then if that is true the only thing to do is put in sufficient pumps to do the job. I am told the water supply is sufficient. Then if that is true, there must be ways to get the water in the reservoir. Or could it be that the south side of the hill is represented with only one vote? In all fairness, I feel that this is a matter that should be looked into. Let's have fair distribution, or else, cease to refer to the company as a Mutual Water Company."

Mr. Langworthy agreed that the smaller pipeline at the higher elevation contributed to unequal distribution of water. Chief reason, however, he asserted, was the diminished supply of water at the source.

"It would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 to equalize the distribution system," he stated. With the limited funds at our disposal, we can only do a little every year, but steady progress is being made. We have the 6-inch pipe now to lay a new line on Cajon road. This project will be undertaken in the near future."

NEW WELLS BEING BROUGHT INTO PRODUCTION

A new well recently put into production yielded only 100 gals. a minute, Mr. Langworthy said, but another well across the river, now being reconditioned, will be a much better producer. Tested on Wednesday, the well flowed 400 gals. per minute.

Six hundred feet of pipe will have to be laid before water from this well will be available—approximately 30 days from now.

Move Into New Home On Lakeside Road

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur A. Thomas and son Russell moved Saturday into their new home on Lakeside rd., 1 mile east and 1 mile south of Lakeside. They were assisted by their daughter, Mrs. Bruce Clapp and her husband of San Diego. Mr. Clapp is employed by the Naval Electronics Laboratory.

The new home is near an older one on the 14-acre ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have lived in Lakeside 5 years, coming here from San Diego.

Mr. Thomas was commissioned a major in the Army and during the war worked on manpower problems with war production in the Midwest. The last six months of his service was as a member of the of the UNRRA in the British 8th Army Zone in Austria. The latter country was not so hard hit by the war, according to Mr. Thomas, but the story is different in Germany where it will take from 10 to 15 years to repair the destruction.

Russell Thomas, a corporal in the Army, received his discharge July 26 after two years service with a motor battalion outfit. He spent 9 months in Tokyo, where reconstruction is described as "very slow," due to lack of equipment, food and materials. Russell is considering entering college in the fall.

NEW MANAGER HERE FOR SHERMAN-GRAY INC.

Raymond R. Brown of Grossmont is the new manager of the Sherman-Gray, Inc. branch real estate office in Lakeside.

Mr. Brown was formerly with the Pierce Realty Co. in La Mesa. He and Mrs. Brown reside on Primrose dr., Fletcher Hills.

Mrs. Catherine Griffiths will continue with the firm as associate broker.

RETURN TO BAKERSFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rowe of Bakersfield returned to their home July 31st after a week's visit with their son Manley Rowe and family who reside on Riverview rd., Lakeside. Manley took his father on a fishing trip to Morena while they were here.

CERAMICS DISPLAY AT DRESS SHOP

An interesting collection of ceramics is being displayed this week in the window of the Lakeside Dress Shop.

The articles were made by the Lakeside Ceramics Class being taught by Mrs. Ella Merritt of Lakeside Farms.

After the clay articles are shaped and formed the different colored glazes are put on—then the material is fired in the electric kiln at Mrs. Merritt's home.

The class has been meeting each Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Alice Gibson on River st.

To observe the operation of the kiln, classes will be held for a while at Mrs. Merritt's home on Hillside dr.

The classes are free and open to all. Both men and women are enrolled. Further information may be had by telephoning Mrs. Merritt—Hilldale 4-3921.

LAKESIDE C. OF C. TO MEET MONDAY

Cards were mailed this week by Secretary Neil Langlois announcing a meeting of the Lakeside Chamber of Commerce for 6:30 p. m., Monday, Aug. 11, at the Bide-a-Wee Coffee Shop on Sycamore st.

"There will be a short business meeting, and then whatever you have on your mind," the notice stated.

Burt Family In Long Trek Across Nation

(This article courtesy North Adams, Mass., "Transcript")

Adams saw the first stage of a modern covered wagon trek across the continent today when, with their household furniture comprising the major part of the load on a ton and one-half truck, John L. Burt, former Adams tax collector, and his son, J. Lawrence Burt, left Adams en route for California, where they plan to reside. Their house on Country Club avenue was sold recently to Francis Belisle, proprietor of Belisle's auto body shop.

J. Lawrence Burt's wife and their 10-year-old daughter, Barbara, are to make the trip to California by airplane. Meanwhile they are remaining in Adams until they receive word from California that the two male members of the Burt family have arrived there and then their trip by plane will begin.

In California, the Burts will make their home at Lakeside, a community about 22 miles northeast of San Diego. J. Lawrence Burt, who has been radio technician at the Sprague Electric plant in North Adams, went there a month ago to look over the section and purchased a house and land on which he and his father plan to raise chickens. They expect to reach California in their truck in about two weeks with overnight stops planned at hotels or guest houses.

John L. Burt, native of Adams, is 75 years of age. He was employed in the office of the former Renfrew Manufacturing Company for 15 years and then served for 15 years as Adam's tax collector, retiring from active work in 1929. Besides his son, J. Lawrence, Mr. Burt has a daughter, Mrs. Albert Hiser of 9 Summer street. In his younger years Mr. Burt was well known as a vocalist and was for years a member of the Imperial male quartet. He is a Spanish-American war veteran, having served in Cuba with Company M of Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller On Deer Hunting Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller of Los Coches rd., Lakeside, are taking their vacation this year in a series of interesting trips. The first was a leisurely trip through Yellowstone National Park.

Mrs. Miller spent one week visiting her mother, Mrs. Madeline Ogden at the San Diego Yacht Club.

On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Stanley Conant went to Laguna Beach for a three-day visit with Mrs. George Jorgenson, former Lakeside teacher.

Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Miller left with friends from San Diego on a ten-day deer hunting trip to Mendocino county.

Plan Beach Party For TNT Club

Plans are being made for a TNT Club beach party at Mission Beach August 13, with Mmes. M. M. Carille and A. R. Held, hostesses. All members are urged to attend.

A. M. Huffman returned Wednesday from a month's trip to Rapid City, S. D., where he visited his brother, Harvey Huffman. Mr. and Mrs. Riggle of Lakeside accompanied Mr. Huffman. She visited her sister, Mrs. Grace Fuller.

Incomes in California totaled $22,600,000,000 in 1946, with the family average 15% above that of the country as a whole.

"Days of 49" Net May Reach $5,800

Lakeside's "Days of 49" which ended with a three-day celebration August 1, 2 and 3, netted the Memorial Building Fund approximately $5,700, according to E. H. Carender, treasurer, who reported today (Thursday) a few receipts were still coming in.

Gross receipts will approximate $6,500. To this amount the Queen contest contributed $1,800.

Next step in the Memorial Building program will be up to the Memorial Committee, composed of delegates from organizations in Lakeside. It has been suggested the committee may propose the erection soon of an auditorium and one wing of the proposed $30,000 structure.

Stanley F. Conant is chairman of the Memorial Building Celebration Committee.

Three days of intensive celebrating by people of Lakeside left the community with a "let-down" feeling this week. The general consensus was that the 1947 celebration was an unequalled success.

"It was the best show we ever put on, or anyone else ever put on, for that matter," stated Hugo Clapp, president of the Lakeside Chamber of Commerce.

"PERFECT BEHAVIOR"

He said he was especially pleased at the perfect behavior of the people on the grounds.

Stanley F. Conant, had nothing but praise for the cooperation given him in putting on the celebration.

"There was a job for every man, woman and child in the community and such success as we had could only be achieved through their performance," he said.

Others who were especially active in making arrangements for the "Days of 49" were Otis Barker, E. H. Carender, Clarence Foster, Claude Weston, Les Kephart, Jim Haptonstall, Alice Gilson and Cyril Houlihan.

Mr. Conant praised the efforts of the Lucas family in sponsoring a successful rodeo, the activities of the Queen contestants, under the general chairmanship of Fred Prindle, and the Kangaroo Court, presided over by Judge W. K. Wade.

Original goal of the committee was to raise $5,000.

Cyril Houlihan, a comparative newcomer to Lakeside, took an active part in the celebration, personally raising nearly 1,000 in an auction sale. He solicited the articles, then auctioned them off during the three-day celebration. His running comment as announcer enlivened the celebration.

The sound equipment used was donated by Charles Snyder, sound technician. He was assisted by Louis Parquette.

The use of the rodeo grounds and equipment was a gift of the San Diego County Rodeo Association.

The services of Dodge's Old Time Orchestra were donated.

El Cajon merchants were praised for their generosity in donating merchandise to be auctioned.

Another contribution by El Cajon to the celebration was the appearance of the George Cox quartet.

Events started with the crowning of Queen Lucas by Mrs. Alice Gibson, chairman of the War Memorial Committee. The Queen then crowned Ed Harrison with a wreath of flowers, making him King of the 49ers.

VARMIT BITES DUST

"Billy the Kid" (Bob Conley) held up Sutter's Mill Sunday evening, but his lawlessness cost him his "life." In a gun battle following his pursuit, the law again prevailed and Billy the Kid was brought in—dead.

ACTION IN THE TANK

Activity around the horse trough hit a new high Sunday evening. The Ben Johnson—John Digenan "feud" broke out again—this time on the dance floor. The disputants were swept as if by a compelling hand, to the platform above the tank. Here after each landed a few "telling blows" both lost their balance and cooled off in the water below.

Later, Walter Hartung landed in the tank, but it wasn't Hugo Clapp who put him there. It was the law, again, which caught up with him for "impersonating a woman." "Judge" Claude Weston nodded toward the tank and Walt was propelled in by two strong pair of arms.

He found the water to his liking, however, and gave an impromptu swimming and diving exhibition.

THE WEDDIN'

Highlight of the evening was the scheduled ceremony at which "Violet Hartung" became the bride of Mr. Male Cooper (Earl Barker.) The bride was attended by her father, Elmer Macy, carrying a shotgun and the bridegroom was protected by the pistols of Clyde Wilding, "sheriff."

Beryl Cooper as the "M. D." added to the hilarity of the scene when he responded to an urgent call to come at once to revive the bride who had fainted. Mr. Cooper pulled a jug from his "vet" kit and the bride was momentarily forgotten as all took a swig.

BRIDEGROOM ON SPOT

Hugo Clapp threatened to disrupt the wedding when he challenged the integrity of the bridegroom, but this little matter was straightened out through the good offices of "Reverend" Merritt. Vivian Lucas played her guitar and sang "Daisies Won't Tell" and "My Man" as the wedding procession approached the altar.

Others taking part in the ceremony were Mrs. Frank Stewart, bridesmaid; Mrs. George Miller, mother of the bride; Mrs. Wallace Phillips; Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. Joy Wilding and Mrs. Ella Merrick.

FIRST AIDERS REST

One place that did not do a rushing business was the first aid station manned by Mr. and Mrs. Hale Whitaker. Only injuries needing attention were minor cuts.

Thirty persons took part in the grand march to select winners in the costume feature of the Days of 49.

Best dressed couple were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Phillips.

Second place was awarded Victor Gregory whose characterization of Abraham Lincoln was outstanding.

The gown worn by Miss Waters belonged to her great aunt, Mary Hawkins. The fan which Miss Waters carried Saturday night belonged to her mother who wore it at a ball honoring Prince Edward VII when he was Prince of Wales.

A generation later, Miss Waters carried the fan when Edward VIII as Prince of Wales was entertained at a ball in San Diego.

Miss Waters has a cattle ranch across from El Monte Park. She came here from San Diego a year ago. An American Kennel Club judge, Miss Waters in the past has raised airdales and chows.

The old fashioned black dress and bonnet worn by Mrs. Walter Phillips, which brought her first prize in the 49er costume parade, was loaned to her by Mrs. Lucy McKay.

Mrs. McKay has had the dress and bonnet about 15 years. They belonged to her great-grandmother Mrs. Ann Briery of England. She has a picture in an old album, wearing the gown and bonnet. The latter is made of crocheted wool lace and ribbons.

The garments were formerly in the possession of a great aunt of Mrs. McKay—Miss Lavina Briery of La Mesa.

At a special session of the Kangaroo court Friday night, charges were trumped up and fines levied on F. L. Lake and Robert Swearingin. Both men willingly contributed in excess of $50 to the War Memorial Fund.

BEST BEARDS

In the Whiskereno judging contest, first place for the most manly beard was won by Les Kephart, with Clarence Pratt second and Frank Stewart, third. Other winners were:

Reddest—Eddie Harrison. Blackest—E. J. Sutton. Oddest—Earl Barker. Best In Character—V. Gregory. Tried Hard—Carl Stope.

Les Kephart turned his prize of $75 back to the committee. Other prizes were either turned back or spent on the grounds.

The Cisco Kid came to life again Saturday night, holding up the "local stage" just after it arrived at the Rodeo Grounds with a load of passengers and gold dust.

The Kid rode off with the dust, but the long arm of the law (Leland Barker, "T. S. marshal") reached out and brought him in. The Cisco Kid was sentenced to 99 years in jail.

Tom LaMadrid drove the stage coach, which had Helen LaMadrid, Walter Robinette and Ronnie Clapp as passengers. Hugo Clapp was armed guard.

Local Nimrods Search for Deer

Although no deer had been reported brought back to Lakeside early Thursday, several parties were scouring the hills in search of game—among them: Hugo Clapp, Wilson White, George White and Orville Huffman.

Bob Conley and Clyde Atkinson.

Forrest Roberts and Ray Raub.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 6.—Warnings for hunters to be extremely careful in the hills this year because of extreme fire hazards in practically all of the state, and admonitions urging hunters to obtain permits from private land owners, or stay away from posted areas, characterized scattered reports from fish and game wardens to the California Division of Fish and Game.

The 40 day season for Black Tail deer opened August 7, in the Coastal and the recently designated Southern California two deer areas.

Bucks are reported to be fairly plentiful and in good condition in San Diego County, but a terrific fire hazard exists. Four serious fires already have occurred this summer, and a recent blaze in the Laguna Mountains drove many deer into the Laguna refuge.

Each report received at the office of The Division of Fish and Game urges deer hunters to be extremely careful this year with camp fires, cigarettes, cigars, pipes, and matches.

Hunters are urged to personally check with forestry officials in areas they intend to hunt in view of the fact that further emergency closures are anticipated because of extreme dryness this season.

START P. O. BUILDING

Construction of the new post office building for Lakeside was begun this week.

A. R. Held is putting up the building on his property on Sycamore st. between Main and Vine sts.

Mrs. B. H. Haley Vacationing at Home

Mrs. B. H. Haley, employee in enlisted personnel office at North Island is vacationing during the month of August at her home in Lakeside. Vacations in other years have been more strenuous, including three days in Seattle during V J day two years ago and last year's trip to Independence, Mo. when President Truman was visiting there. This year the vacation is being spent quietly at home in order to do a little repair work and painting.

LANGLOIS on the air

Well, the days of 49 are now over and it has again proved that Lakeside can do it. This is one community that gets together, forgets any personal differences and goes all out for Lakeside.

This community works like a church organization when it starts, and so many of its members worked that I can single out no one who laid down, although I should like to mention two who, through the years, have been outstanding civic-minded citizens and have always been there when needed, and in this case really stood out.

I mean my girl friend Alice Gibson, and that grand old boy, H. C. Carender.

We must also take off our hats to people of El Cajon who gave us such splendid support. The businessmen came through like sports and gave valuable gifts to be auctioned off. I can't mention the names of all who gave, because I might miss someone, but as near as I can find out, whoever was approached came through and many sent in voluntarily without being contacted.

Cy Houlihan's auction idea was a great piece of work.

I wish to make a public apology to my old opponent, J. C. Pearce. I criticized him some weeks ago in this column about "cardboard shacks," but Tom had beat me to it by three days, two hours and four minutes, and had already arranged for a good remedy job—which is being done.

My apologies to you, Thomas.

If you folks remember, some weeks ago I told you if you wanted to build or buy, do it now. Also stated that due to John L. Lewis's new coal contract, coal would go up 70 cents per ton and steel $5.

Well, I was not too far off. Coal is up 73 cents average and steel $6 to $12.

General Motors gave a tiny notice that cars would have to be upped from 6% to 10%. So, my friends, don't stall around and listen to crepe hangers tell you everyone is broke. The fast war dollars for Tom Collins or Zombies is gone, but the solid dollar for homes won't gain a thing by being out of circulation. So get that new home going. You see in homes, the important thing that makes them grow in value, are the trees and shrubs you plant around them, and in this case time is the essence.

And for good homes there is money available. We have a bank in Lakeside, and if you can show them something solid, they will play ball for home people.

Another thing about said bank. When you go to see them, don't let Matt Donohoe scare you to death. He's human, but you see he's lending someone else's money and kind of leans backward to play safe, but he knows values and you can come out OK. But build that home. Get in and work yourself on it and we have some good local contractors who will give you credit for any work you do on it.

To those who are in a position to build a good home, go and see a RELIABLE contractor, and have him do it. And to those who need a home, and have only so much money. Contract some of it and do what you can yourself, or hire someone to take charge of the work, and do it now. Costs are a long way from coming down, and a home is something we all need.

To finish this off, will mention that it is your privilege to call the editor up and disagree with me, but if you want to get into a debate, I'll be glad to accommodate you, on any subject, whether I know anything about it or not, I'll put up an argument. However, sign your letters when you bawl me out. I can take it; also I can dish it out, but this editor really censors my stuff. He's not used to me and sure cramps my style. Sometimes I think my wife has a hand in this.

So if we don't hear some squawks, or once in a while a word of agreement, we must surmise no one reads this, so space could be used to better advantage.

See you next week, maybe.

SEEK TO ERADICATE MOUNTAIN WILD ROSES

Experimental work with spray materials will be greatly increased by the Agricultural Extension Service as the result of the recent purchase of a power sprayer for their use by the Board of Supervisors, according to F. W. Dorman, Assistant arm Advisor. Herbicides, such as 2, 4-D and oil will be tested on various weeds and shrubs. Insecticides and minor element sprays will also be experimented with.

Mr. Dorman states that one of the first projects to get underway will be testing 2, 4-D in various forms and concentrations in the eradication of wild roses from mountain meadows. These shrubs have no value, take up a lot of valuable grazing space and are spreading. A practical means of control would be very beneficial to local cattlemen.

The post war population of the Far West is 36% above the pre-war figure, by far the sharpest gain since 1940 for any section of the country.

Stanley Conant Named "Citizen of the Week"

In his "Report to the County," broadcast over station KYOR this (Thursday) morning, Stanley F. Conant was named by Seymour Francis as "Citizen of the Week in San Diego County." The broadcast was a tribute to Mr. Conant's work in connection with the Days of 49 Celebration.

Included in the biographical sketch given by Mr. Francis were the following facts:

Stanley Ford Conant has been active in civic affairs in Lakeside.

He was president of the Lakeside Chamber of Commerce, and recently resigned as chairman of the board of directors of the Riverview Farms Mutual Water Company, after serving 14 years. He has been chairman of many of Lakeside's Red Cross and Community Chest drives.

In 1936 he was chairman of a contest for a Lakeside Rodeo Queen. Again in 1939 he was chairman of a "Jamboree" carnival that raised funds for a stone flagpole monument to the late Otto Marcks.

In 1940 he was chairman of a series of carnivals and events that raised funds for lights on the school ball grounds; chairman of the Honor Roll Board erected during the war. Several hundred dollars were left over and became the nucleus for the War Memorial Civic Building Fund.

With all his civic activities he has found time to carry on a successful Standard Fuel Oil business for 15 years. Three large tank trucks are in operation at the present time.

Formerly of Enterprise, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Conant came to Lakeside in 1931. They have two sons and a daughter. Stanley Conant, Jr., is an electrical repairman and lives in Seattle. Lt. Julian Conant is an officer in the Dental Corps of the Navy. Jean Conant is now Mrs. Robert Angus. Her husband is a sports writer on the San Michael Tribune. They have a son Michael, 5 years old.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Conant was Miss Maude E. Higbee of Hillsdale, Mich. She taught in the Lakeside Union Grammar School for 16 years.

'Jitney Dinner' by Women's Fellowship

The Woman's Fellowship of Lakeside Community Presbyterian Church announces that there will be a Jitney Dinner on Wednesday, August 20, from 6:30 on as the food holds out. Proceeds of the dinner will go into the Fellowship treasury, funds of which are said to be "at rock bottom."

The oldsters of Lakeside will recognize a nostalgic aroma about this announcement, for in times past the Jitney Dinner has been a yearly event anxiously awaited and long remembered.

Each item served will cost five cents, making the price of a good meal around 25 cents.

Because of high food costs, profit from the venture will depend upon number of donations made. Anyone willing to assist in any way is asked to get in touch with Mmes. Vance, Sly, Desmond or Gimble.

CIRCLES TO MEET TUESDAY, AUGUST 19

Four circles of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lakeside will meet Tuesday, August 19, as follows:

Lakeside Farms Circle with Mrs. Elby Kephart, dessert at 12:30.
Lakeside Circle with Mrs. George Gibson, dessert at 12:30.
Winter Gardens Circle with Mrs. O. O. Storm, dessert, 12:30.
Los Coches Circle with Mrs. E. G. Gimble, dessert at 12:30.

EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING HELD LAST TUESDAY

An executive board meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Community Presbyterian Church at 10:30 Tuesday at the church preceded the general meeting of the society. All enjoyed a potluck luncheon at noon.

Keeping Quality of Home Rendered Lard

A way to improve the keeping quality of home-rendered lard is now available for farmers who store it for home use. It is simply necessary to add two to three pounds of hydrogenated vegetable shortening to each 50 pounds of lard at the time of rendering. This development was made at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Eastern Regional Research Laboratory of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, in Philadelphia, Pa., in connection with studies on the development of new uses for lard and other animal fats.

In discussing the question of rancid lard, the Eastern Research Laboratory chemists say: "Lard is a high-energy food that is almost completely digestible and contains substances necessary for good nutrition. Strong or rancid lard is not only unfit for food use and very unpalatable, but certain valuable food values have been destroyed. Such lard also destroys essential vitamins in foods to which it might be added. Since lard cannot be renovated after it becomes rancid, farmers and householders who store it for home use often suffer considerable loss through spoilage."

The preferred method, according to Dr. L. B. Homard, Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, is to add the vegetable shortening to the rendered lard in the kettle just before setting and separating the cracklings in the lard press. Another procedure is to add the shortening to the rendered lard.

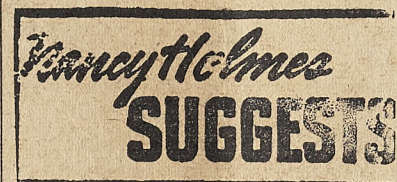

Three Toastmistresses Give Seven-Minute Speeches

If all indications run true to form the El Cajon Valley Toastmistress Club promises to be one of the most interesting and outstanding club in the Valley.

Under the able leadership of its newly-elected president, Mrs. Hale Whitaker, the first official meeting was held at Ernie's Rancho, Wednesday, July 30th, with 24 members present.

Becoming a "first" for the first time in her life, Mrs. Larry G. Boeing handled the position of Toastmistress with all the aplomb and ease of a seasoned chairman. Pertinent and original remarks concerning the speakers of the evening gave a greater degree of interest to the listeners and tended to encourage the speakers in developing poise and confidence, two of the major objectives of International Toastmistress Clubs. The participants in the seven minute speeches were Mrs. L. W. Wolcott, Mrs. Ruby Vickers, and Mrs. F. H. Lawson. Their subjects included "Human Nature", "An Autobiographical sketch", and "What I Expect From the Toastmistress Club".

Those who took part in the August 6 meeting were: Toastmistress, Mrs. E. A. Banks; Grammarian, Critic, Mrs. Mary Edwards; Topic Mistress, Mrs. Evelyn Barron; Timekeeper, Mrs. Emma Cola; Speakers, Mrs. J. E. Hall, Mrs. Ala Smith and Mrs. Hale Whitaker.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

WHEN Keats wrote "A thing of beauty is a joy forever", he didn't know about lovely molded salads. Nevertheless, those words are appropriate as most homemakers will agree, for on all festive occasions when eye appeal is important as well as taste, inviting molded salads step in to save the day.

One of the most luscious, colorful salads we've seen was made by Nancy Holmes in the Best Food consumer kitchens. So whether it's for a bride's reception, the bridge club or the next time you entertain the boss and his wife, why not impress your guests with Bowl o' Fruit Salad?

Bowl o' Fruit Salad
6 peach halves
6 apricots
6 pear halves
Red food color
12 strawberries
3 small bunches
little green grapes
2 small bunches
red or blue grapes
4 sprigs fresh mint
2 tablespoons gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
2 1/2 cups boiling water
2 inches stick cinnamon
4 cloves
1 lemon skins
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
Romaine
Real mayonnaise

Brush fresh or canned fruit halves with small amount of red color to look like pink cheeks. Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water which has been heated with lemon skins and spices (and these removed). Add sugar and lemon juice. Pour 1/4 inch gelatin mixture in bottom of bowl and chill until firm. Dip fruits in gelatin and arrange attractively, rounded side out around bottom of bowl. Have gelatin mixture cooled until syrupy and add some to fruit. Chill a few minutes and continue until bowl is filled and all fruit used except 4 large strawberries. Chill until very firm. Unmold onto a plate. Garnish with romaine leaves and berries with real mayonnaise as desired. Yield: 8 servings.

About 12.4 per cent of the people in the United States as a whole now live in California.
California leads the nation in the value of its agricultural production, totaling $2,500,000,000 in 1946.

World peace is the most urgent problem facing the United States in the opinion of Republican Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying:

"Peace at home and abroad is the most urgent problem facing the American people today. We must find a way to stabilize labor-management relationships at home so high and uninterrupted production can sustain high wages and low prices. On the other hand, we must persistently hunt for collective peace and security in the world—not only to stop another war but also to remove the burden of armaments from national economies of all concerned. There are other problems. We must sustain Western Democracy against Eastern Communism, at home and abroad. But the firmest answer is my first one—PEACE."

Except for the District of Columbia with its gain of 56.6%, Nevada showed the best increase in the country, 50.9%, between 1940 and 1947.

Farm News: Grape Pest Attacked

"The California Agricultural Department's program for eradicating the Grape Skeletonizer in San Diego County is making good progress this year," states Dean F. Palmer, County Agricultural Commissioner.

"This serious pest of grapes was apparently accidentally introduced near Alpine in 1941 and has since spread on cultivated and wild grapes throughout much of San Diego County," says Palmer.

"At present a crew of four State men, from the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, are surveying for any new infestations, and a two man State crew is mapping all grape plantings in the area, even down to one vine in a back yard."

Two eradication crews are working under contract for the State. One is working on wild grapes in the rugged canyons on the desert slopes of the mountains, and north of Ramona. These men cut out the wild grapes and treat with the new wonder chemical 2-4D. Twenty-five men are engaged in the work of establishing a wild-grape-free barrier area of twelve to fifteen miles around the infested sections. The other crew of fourteen men has completed one dusting of all cultivated grapes known to exist where the moth has been found. They have dusted over 60,000 individual vines and over 1,400 acres of vineyard.

"Crews on the wild grapes have re-treated the barrier zone established last year along the Mexican border to prevent the spread into lower California. In the desert canyons, under great difficulty, and along the border, over a million square yards of wild grape have been sprayed with 2-4D," continues Palmer.

SANTEE

The Santee Utility and Interest Ass'n held its monthly meeting Friday night, August 1st at Panita Ranch. Before the meeting a pot-luck dinner was served to about 100 guests. A short talk was given by Mr. Monti on the water situation here, and a meeting of the water committee was set for Wednesday, August 6, at the home of A. M. Cheney to discuss ways and means of forming a new water district for Santee. Mr. Fradenburg reported that a new hose had been purchased for the Fire Dept., which is now ready to function. The next meeting will be held at the Edgemoor farm, which will also be preceded by a pot-luck dinner, on Friday, Sept. 5. The entire community is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gregory entertained dinner guests Wednesday, July 30. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cheney and daughters Mickey and Donna.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Devine report a lovely vacation trip recently made to Hoover Dam, Zion National Park, Grand Canyon, Bryce Canyon, up through Idaho, Oregon, and Washington, and back down the coast of California. They were away three weeks.

Sorry to report that an error was made in the item for last week of the death of Helen Emenschuh. Instead it should have been reported Mrs. Ella M. Faber.

used Mr. Palmer.

"This year's program will call for expenditures of about $125,000," he stated. When you consider that there are a half-million acres of grapes in the state, and that it would cost several million dollars a year to dust these grapes, such an extermination program will be very economical if successful.

"There are many difficulties which any undertaking of this magnitude presents. To find and stamp out the very last moth in an area covering two thousand square miles is an almost superhuman job," stated Mr. Palmer. "However, if progress continues at the present rate, I believe the Skeletonizer will be beaten."

"I would like to remind all grape growers that the State quarantine still requires all fresh fruit of grapes, as well as vines and cuttings to be fumigated before they can leave the quarantined area. However, they can move to San Diego or elsewhere in the infested area without restrictions. Anyone moving grapes in the County should contact the County Department of Agriculture or a district agricultural inspector for latest information on the quarantine regulations," Palmer said.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S SOCIETY RECEIVES GIFT

The Escondido Farm Bureau Center exhibit at the Del Mar County Fair was designed around the idea of a wishing well. Besides being a very attractive exhibit displaying the type of living in the Escondido area, the wishing well collected $753.00 for the San Diego County Crippled Children's Society located at 835 South 35th street in San Diego, as reported by the secretary of the center, Harry Dunlop, and the chairman of the exhibit, Paul Hurd.

Tips on Tree Planting

By FRANK F. GANDER,
Proprietor, Lakeside Nursery

With so many new homes being built in Lakeside and vicinity, and with so many of them being occupied by folks who are newcomers to the area, this seems an appropriate time to offer a few suggestions about planting, both for landscape effects and for home production of fruit. There are certain general rules that apply to the planting of most trees and shrubs. For instance, deciduous trees and shrubs may be purchased most economically during their dormant period from about Dec. 15 to Mar. 15. Plants that keep their leaves all the time, in fact any plants in containers, may be set out at any season, but care must be taken in moving the container to insure that the dirt does not fall away from the roots. Avocado and citrus trees—any plants that have had the protection of a lath house—should be shielded from sun and wind during their first summer. This may be done with a frame with either sacks or laths tacked on.

First planting around the new home should be the setting out of shade trees, for these will require two years or more of growth before they can be of much benefit. The demand today is for a fast growing tree that will stand both heat and cold, and that will do well in almost any type of soil. The Chinese elm meets these requirements well, and as it is also of very attractive appearance, it is being widely planted. Few trees can equal it for all around desirability as a shade tree, but some folks feel that it is not entirely suited for use in Southern California because it is deciduous. However, winter sunshine is usually welcome, and an occasional barelimbed tree does not, it seems to me, give an unduly wintry aspect to the landscape.

For those who prefer trees that are always green, the weeping or evergreen elm is recommended, although in cold winters this tree, too, may be bare for a short time. It is fast growing but does not attain as great size as does the Chinese elm, nor is it so resistant to drought. It makes an excellent specimen tree for planting in lawns.

Some of the acacias, too, rank high as fast growing shade trees, and they retain their leaves throughout the year. Most of them are cold, heat, and drought resistant enough to fit them for planting almost anywhere in the area. The Bailey acacia is the most popular because of its silvery foliage, abundance of yellow flowers in February, and compact rounded form. The silver wattle and green wattle have similar flowers but grow taller and are less rounded in form.

The blackwood acacia is perhaps the fastest growing of the group and reaches the greatest size, but its flowers are pale and less attractive. There are a host of other acacias—some of large size and some shrub-like. All have their special uses.

NEXT WEEK: Mr. Gander will continue on the subject of trees.

of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, in Philadelphia, Pa., in connection with studies on the development of new uses for lard and other animal fats.

In discussing the question of rancid lard, the Eastern Research Laboratory chemists say: "Lard is a high-energy food that is almost completely digestible and contains substances necessary for good nutrition. Strong or rancid lard is not only unfit for food use and very unpalatable, but certain valuable food values have been destroyed. Such lard also destroys essential vitamins in foods to which it might be added. Since lard cannot be renovated after it becomes rancid, farmers and householders who store it for home use often suffer considerable loss through spoilage."

The preferred method, according to Dr. L. B. Homard, Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, is to add the vegetable shortening to the rendered lard in the kettle just before settling and separating the cracklings in the lard press. Another procedure is to add the shortening to the rendered lard.

EDITORIAL

The LAKESIDE STAR

Published every Thursday at Laurel and Main Streets in the city of Lakeside, California

Paul B. and Irene M. Baker, Co-Publishers

Entered as second-class matter on Sept 6, 1946, at the Post Office at Lakeside, California, under the act of March 3, 1879.

LAKESIDERS KNOW HOW TO HAVE A GOOD TIME

Lakeside's Days of 49 have come and gone — leaving pleasant memories and a substantial bank account for the start of the new Memorial Building.

It was a lot of work — most of which was shouldered by a few individuals. Their fine efforts would have been wasted, however, had it not been for the splendid support given the celebration by the people of Lakeside and vicinity.

Probably more than 5,000 people attended the three-day celebration. It is doubtful if that number of people ever assembled before at a like affair, where rowdiness and disorderly conduct were so conspicuous by their absence. It reflects great credit on those who attended.

The fiesta was a success in every way. The goal to raise $5,000 was bettered by a large sum. People spent liberally for a good cause and had a good time doing it!

Lakesiders know how to have a good time together. They should do it more often.

DUMB-BELLS DOUBLING?

A Presidential Commission on higher education is said to have made this alarming discovery that the intelligence of the American people is declining.

Says Guy Irving Burch, head of the Federal Populations Reference Bureau:

"If these limited tests hold true for the whole Nation, one-third of the American people are better intellectually than dull or backward. Forty per cent have normal intelligence; twenty-seven per cent have superior intelligence."

Mr. Educator: Please put us in your 40% class!

FARM OUTLOOK POOR?

With prices of farm products at record high levels and no reversing trend in sight, it is difficult to be anything but optimistic about the farm outlook in general, for some time to come.

Not so, however, with James M. Tinley, farm economist at the University of California College of Agriculture, who was quoted in a press dispatch Sunday from Berkeley as seeing in the crystal ball an "unhappy outlook for farmers in the next 20 years. Some of the setbacks he foresees are:

A recession in a year or two. Declining prices thereafter for 10 to 15 years.

A more severe depression to follow the price drop.

Basing his forecasts on a study of wholesale prices since 1790, Tinley said:

"There almost certainly will be a post-war recession. Most economists are agreed that a sharp drop in prices will occur in the next one to three years. The only question is how soon and how severe?"

"Also, if history repeats itself, there will be economic pressures toward a slightly declining wholesale price level after the initial post-war decline. This should last 10 to 15 years and end in a second, sharper post-war depression."

"The general level of prices will probably be somewhat higher than between World Wars I and II."

While we agree that the cycle of declining prices will eventually set in, the time has run out for a "post-war recession." Business is good, employment is at a record high level, with consumer demand still ahead of production. It is difficult to see a recession in that picture.

The price of grains slumped sharply after the last war and it is possible that may happen again, though history does not repeat itself in precise fashion. Prices of much farm produce, such as butter and eggs remained high until the 1929 crash.

The "outlook for farmers" nationally, is one thing. The outlook in San Diego County is another. Here farmers are able to diversify and produce on a scale possible in few localities in the nation.

Certainly, there is much to be optimistic about in surveying the farm outlook here.

OPEN TO SUGGESTION ABOUT BETTER HOUSING

Editor, Lakeside Star: In last week's edition of your paper, Mr. Langlois made the statement that the party who wrote what they thought about the remark he made about a citizen, living in an old jalopy, and referring to that citizen as a character, had not signed their name. You have my permission to print my name to that letter.

He also said that the party did not sign their name because they were afraid. The only thing I would be afraid of is that my signature would not be of any interest to anyone!

I would like to add that I still think that was a small and very nasty remark to make about anyone. Many of us live in houses that would not come up to Mr. Langlois specifications, but we are the ones who must live in them, and quite happy to do so. For them are our homes, and the extent of our means.

But if Mr. Langlois can suggest how we can get one of those better homes. Say, that would be interesting. HENRIETTA BROWN.

THE OLD PARTY LINE

Clyde L. Wilding, "deputy sheriff" at the Days of 49 Celebration, has written the words for a number of songs — one of which has recently been set to music and recorded. The following two verses and chorus are about a familiar institution — The Old Party Line.)

Oh, the gossip you hear
In the course of a year
When there are eight or nine
On the Old Party Line —

When the bells start to ring
They all drop everything,
And receivers go down
Along the line to town.
Now you can hear them grin
As they all listen in
When baby starts bawlin'
And someone is callin';
Or a dog starts barkin'
At some car that's parkin';
The guy list'nin' in gets sore
When some kid slams a door.

CHORUS
But it's sure fun, by heck,
To be a rubberneck
And hear what's goin' on
Before the day is gone.
So you ain't alone
Each time you telephone
Your sweetheart, rain or shine,
On the Old Party Line.

MOTTO FOR THE WEEK

"Let's hew to the line; let the chips fall where they may."

With very few exceptions, the business folks in our little town are real people. There are one or two outstanding young men among them who have what it takes to be real merchants.

They are friendly and pleasant, kind and obliging; also they can and do make buyers feel as though they are being treated as neighbors and friends and not merely as someone from whom to obtain money.

These boys know that the customer is "nearly always wrong," but they can stand by while said purchaser blows his, or her, top and yet smile — and that is not easy, we will admit. Very often the expression is little more than a sickly grin, but nevertheless a smile. There are many others who would do well to pattern their dealings with the public after the manner of these young salesmen.

It looks as though a few of "The commercial element" do not take into consideration the fact that folks can now get all the gas and tires they need; also most of us like to ride and drive a "car" over good roads such as we have in Southern California and many other towns offer great inducements for us to trade with them.

Furthermore, many large cities are only as far away as the old battered mail box at the mouth of the lane.
How dearly we love you!
The old rusty mail box;
You're dented and dusty,
Yet faithful and trusty
In sunshine and rain,
Our old battered mail box
At the mouth of the lane.
—Guess who?

There are a lot of dollars slipping out the back way from up here. They are going down by the peach orchard, crossing the river bed at the ford and you know when they get to, or beyond "The Box." They are like Halley's comet — "Long time gone."

It might help some if we had a crossing at or near where the old river bridge used to be. Most of us resent the trip up the river which we have to take to cross by the new bridge. How about it, Jim?

Every summer there are a few "tropical" days. It looks like there will be more of the extremely warm ones this season than usual, as the weather is so dry. The writer does not think anyone in this region needs to be reminded to provide plenty of water and shade for all stock and poultry, especially rabbits. In the past a few folks have been careless along that line, but they have mostly learned their lesson.

What do you know about country life?
Would you plant potatoes in the dark or light of the moon?
Speaking of moons, did you ever see a "blue moon?"

BRAIN TEASER

As I came to town I met some geese. There was a goose before two geese, a goose between two geese and a goose behind two geese. How many geese were there?

Now, dear friends, just to take away the bad taste and end this on a pleasant note, please let us quote the following verse:

"This world that we're a-livin' in
Is mighty hard to beat;
With every rose you get a thorn,
But ain't the roses sweet?"
—F. L. Stanton.

California, crowding toward the 10,000,000 mark, increased almost 40% over 1940 and is pressing Pennsylvania for second place among the states, after New York.

ANT CONTROL

This is the season that ants are plaguing the householders and the control of this pest is generally by the poison syrup method. Many different materials are on the market, and it has been found that where the different syrups can be used, if rotated every four to seven days, a higher control of this pest will usually result than where one material with the same odor is used in the control attempts. DDT in dusts of fifty per cent or more are fairly effective on some of the mon ants. The lower dosages, less than fifty per cent DDT powders, have been found of very little value. A bulletin on the control of

BULLETIN AVAILABLE ON TRUCK CROP DISEASES

Soil borne diseases such as fusarium and verticillium show up especially on land that has been previously used in tomatoes or other related plants. This disease remains in the soil and crop rotation is the only means of eliminating losses from this disease. A bulletin on truck crop diseases is available at the agricultural extension service office, room 404, U. S. Customs building.

SUBTROPIC PLANTINGS VISITED NEAR EL CAJON

Clyde E. Simmons, southern editor of the Pacific Rural Press, a very good friend of San Diego agriculture, visited San Diego County and together with County Farm Advisor Jean C. Miller inspected subtropic fruit plantings this past week on the property of Stanley Andrews of El Cajon who has the finest and most productive Chinese Litchi nuts in San Diego, and Admiral W. H. Standley of La Mesa whose Queensland nut is probably the largest tree of this type of fruit in San Diego County.

Mr. Simmons was gathering material for a future issue of the Pacific Rural Press on subtropics in which data and observations on the Elwood Trask ranch of Carlsbad, Capt. L. L. Bucklew at Encinitas and the Williams and Macpherson Nursery at Encinitas are to be used. Special attention is being given to the results of mango production in this area of the State.

PRESS CAN BE WRONG!

"I don't like to dispute the authenticity of the press," said F. F. Umbarger, jokingly last week, "but I am unmarried, despite the news item in the Star referring to 'Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Umbarger.'"

DO YOU LIKE PEACHES?

Apricots, Plums, Nectarines, etc.?

Then plan now for planting a home orchard this winter. To make sure that you will be able to get the trees that you want, come in and place your order early. A small deposit will hold the trees until you are ready for them. Plan, too, to increase the value of your property with a suitable planting of shade trees and shrubs.
